Vultures

Lido

I surrender to the power of your pencil
My adventure, do your love, it's gonna end soon
So remember, send the mob into the temple
My protector, perceives persay

I never meant to love you
I never meant to make you feel the same as me
I never meant to love you
(And now that I know, knew that I knew better)
But you should know, know that I will be ready
When you call your vultures, yeah
(Ay! Ay! Ay!)

Welcome to my body
My legs tired and my bones itch for some darkness
Feed me 'till I'm heartless
I will go bad, bad, bad as I need to be for the garbage
Sweet release of piranhas to the carcass
Oh, stupid artists
Bet you bussing tables or cussing labels out

I never meant to love you
I never meant to make you feel the same as me
I never meant to love you
(And now that I know, knew that I knew better)
But you should know, know that I will be ready
When you call your vultures, yeah
(Ay! Ay! Ay!)

I told my best friend 'bout the first time
First time I saw you
I told my best friend 'bout the best times
Best times we had
I told my best friend 'bout the first time
First time you pulled up
I told my best friend 'bout the last time
Last time I left
I told my best friend 'bout the first time
First time you said it
I told my best friend never let me go back again
