

Something Deep Inside

Light The Torch

You hide your face to fool them all
You wear a veil that never fades

You've made the same mistakes again

Something deep inside
Is finally alive
And it's tearing through my heart of stone
I cannot deny
The dream that will not die
Giving birth, giving birth to something deep inside

Stay behind the walls you build
You can't keep this all contained

You've made the same mistakes again

Something deep inside
Is finally alive
And it's tearing through my heart of stone
I cannot deny
The dream that will not die
Giving birth, giving birth to something deep inside

There's something deep inside of me

There's something burning inside me
There's something burning inside me

Something deep inside
Is finally alive
And it's tearing through my heart of stone
I cannot deny
The dream that will not die
Giving birth, giving birth to something deep inside
I cannot deny
The dream that will not die
Giving birth, giving birth to something deep inside

Giving birth to something deep inside
