

The Wake of My Will

Light This City

I have never found
All hearts will set in stone
I thought I must be long
Till the last men
Standing in the way of my peace
I am lost in the way of my will
Our floating bodies
Let me love
Did somebody see this today
Was done before

In the rise on living out our worst fears
I know only this I need to be hopeful and let it be Powerful

And I felt so fucking strong
But wish I hadn't left the blood
I tried to make this my life
At which I can't help withstand

Everytime they find me
I pray for them to take everything
But they don't, just watch and leave
And I grow, they change my home
They wait, they know that next time
There will be something more to take

And I felt so fucking strong
But wish I hadn't left the blood
I tried to make this my life
At which I can't help withstand

I have come apart
I was so sinister
I thought it must be long
Till the last men
Standing in the way of my peace
I am lost in the way of my will
Just to pray on the singing body
Of the last man standing
