

After Dark

Lights

In a whip so low
No one's gotta know
Knockin' on your door
I don't gotta work anymore
You can
Put your phone down, you're gonna need two hands
You can't get enough
Girl, you know I set it up, for after dark

Late night like Left Eye, I'm creepin'
Assuming the worst 'cause I haven't heard from you all weekend
Your silence is drivin' me up the wall, up the wall
I cannot tell if you're duckin' calls or missin' calls
'Cause you've been so patient
I drink on the job and smoke on the job
So, I don't know how serious you take it
Can't offer much more, you've heard it before
That narrative for me isn't changin'
I wanna make you a priority
I wanna let you know there's more to me
I wanna have your faith restored in me
I'll be on my way

In a whip so low
No one's gotta know (no one's gotta know)
Knockin' on your door
I don't gotta work anymore (I don't gotta work no more)
You can
Put your phone down, you're gonna need two hands
You can't get enough
Girl, you know I set it up, for after dark

Oh, me and you, got you wet like the pool
Then I'm tryna dive in, put some time in
Get the vibe right, get your mind right
It's gon' be a long night
Put your feet in this water, don't wanna get your hair wet
We've hooked up a couple times, we ain't took it there yet
You broke up with your man and ain't been with nobody else
You like, "Fuck these honeys," rather keep it to yourself
He did you wrong, he left you down bad
Now you can't trust nobody
You said, "Do anything, but just don't lie to me"
I said I ride for you, girl, you said you ride for me
Umm, pulled up to the shorty, we got Ghosts
And when it's after dark then we can coast

In a whip so low
No one's gotta know (no one's gotta know)
Knockin' on your door
I don't gotta work anymore (I don't gotta work no more)
You can
Put your phone down, you're gonna need two hands
You can't get enough
Girl, you know I set it up, for after dark
