

Epilogue

Lights

Where are the birds? I don't hear them anymore
Speaking in tongues that I don't understand
Where is the sun they all stop dead
On the floor it doesn't hurt as much
Something risin'

Famous last words
Where is my religion
Ask me now
What do you believe in?

Oh, the things I've done in the name of love
Why does my head wear a thousand faces, a thousand faces
Every one of them looking for something
Why is my mind always a thousand places? A thousand places?
But here, but here, but here
A thousand place
But here, but here, but here

Where am I now
My reflection, it's sinking in
I finally understand

Famous last words
Where is my religion
Bow me down

Oh, the things I've done in the name of love
There's a thousand faces, a thousand faces
Every one of them looking for something
Why is my mind always a thousand places? A thousand places?
But here, but here, but here
A thousand place
But here, but here, but here
