Head Cold

Lights

Walked to the corner
Stood in the cold wind and felt the time passing me by
Under a cover
All frozen over, and my, oh, my knuckles are white

I'm stuck in a hard place
Out in the rat race
Like everybody else
And this one is a big wall
I'm in for the long haul
Trying to remind myself

It's just a head cold
It's just a head cold

Need a little push now
Some kind of a shake down
So come here
Anything

I'm caught in the landslide
Stuck on the inside
Like everybody else
And this one is a big wall
I'm in for the long haul
Trying to remind myself

It's just a head cold
It's just a head cold
It's just a head cold
It's just a head cold

It's nothing
It's not loneliness
Nobody came in on a bed of red roses
Keep moving
Everyone is
Doors always open when another one closes

It's just a head cold
It's just a head cold
It's just a head cold
It's just a head cold
