

Sinners & Saints

Like A Storm

Look to the sky, that's hanging over me
The more it clouds, more I find, more is out of reach
I've seen the light, I've heard it calling me
The more I search for the sign, the more of hell I see

Oh
We tear the skin from their bones
We can't escape what we are

God knows
We're all just sinners and saints

Killing ourselves to be saved
We fall
Blessed with this curse that we can't escape
God knows
God knows we're all just sinners and saints

Rise, fall
This is the war inside your soul

Give me the sign, I hear my eulogy
I'm losing mind, tryna find what's inside of me
We live a lie of what we're meant to be
We try to hide, we deny what we really see

Oh
We tear the skin from their bones
We have lost our way

God knows
We're all just sinners and saints

Killing ourselves to be saved
We fall
Blessed with this curse that we can't escape
God knows
God knows we're all just sinners and saints

Rise, fall
This is the war inside your soul
Rise, fall
This is the war inside your soul

Oh
This is the price that we pay
Oh
Because we tainted the grave

God knows
We're all just sinners and saints

Killing ourselves to be saved
We fall
Blessed with this curse that we can't escape
God knows
God knows we're all just sinners and saints

Rise, fall
This is the war inside your soul
Rise, fall
This is the war inside your soul
