

God Complex

Like Moths to Flames

Just another snake
Need to cut the fucking head
Let the poison bleed
Grim love, neglected just enough
To purify the venomous tongue

Just another lost cause
Remnants that your fragile mind forgot
Deprived of what it needs to survive
Cut the fucking head
Leave the body behind

Glorify your failed attempts
The reoccurring struggles of abandonment
A life that blooms in remorse
Reluctant to change
Vacancy ignored

Can't leave your mark
On a dead world that doesn't care who you are
You've been doomed from the start
Can't leave your mark
You've been burning at both ends without a spark
To ignite the flame, self-loathing shame

Just another snake
New fangs and the crooked teeth sink into me
Grim love, neglected just enough
To purify the venomous tongue

Possessed by a God complex
The nonexistence of life to death

Possessed by a God complex
The nonexistence of life to death

Can't leave your mark
On a dead world that doesn't care who you are
You've been doomed from the start
Can't leave your mark
You've been burning at both ends without a spark
To ignite the flame, self-loathing shame

Grown to hate
Your constant need for sympathy
You know you're undeserving
Cut off the head
Let the poison bleed
Cut off the head
The nonexistence of you to me
The nonexistence of you to me
