

Consider Me

Like Pacific

You want to see me then come and get me
You're fake, you had many chances
None of them taken
You are a product of hate
Supposed to be trying
So why are you lying straight to my face
My only picture of you is one that I couldn't paint

I was a waste of your time
Now hoping I can erase everything

Start considering me
Am I more than you wanted
Or some sort of problem you soon wished away
You've broken all of your teeth
From words so dishonest
Now all of the progress has gone to waste

Stripped of morals and you have standards too high for someone to reach
A lack of words to use
You have no one
No sincerity
Suspicious intentions that you failed to mention

You were a waste of my time
I don't think I could replace anything

Start considering me
Am I more than you wanted
Or some sort of problem you soon wished away
You've broken all of your teeth
From words so dishonest
Now all of the progress has gone to waste

You pushed it away
Pulled it apart
Now you're too far from me
If that's what it takes to be where you are
I can't have you leading me astray

Start considering me
Am I more than you wanted
Or some sort of problem you soon wished away
You've broken all of your teeth
From words so dishonest
Now all of the progress has gone to waste
