

Scarred

Like Pacific

You're not worth my time, no settling
Please god if you exist
I'm questioning my faith like I never did
You have no answers for anything
Do you miss me yet
Cause I always let you take from me

I'd rather bleed to death

You've seen a side of me that's been scarred
Burned beyond recognition
If I give you one more chance
Will you prove me wrong

Cut open my chest, there's no feeling left
For someone who left me, are we done yet
I'd kill to burn your photos but oh how you'd love that You're being thought about

I'd rather bleed to death
Than be forgotten

You've seen a side of me that's been scarred
Burned beyond recognition
If I give you one more chance
Then I'm a sucker for repetition
Afraid of blank space, and consistency
You've seen a side of me that's been scarred

Peel back my nails, I've never worked so hard
You've seen a side of me that's been scarred

You've seen a side of me that's been scarred
Burned beyond recognition
If I give you one more chance
Then I'm a sucker for repetition
Afraid of blank space, and consistency
You've seen a side of me that's been scarred

Peel back my nails, I've never worked so hard
You've seen a side of me that's been scarred
