

THAT ONE SONG

lil aaron

I remember how the words fell off your tongue
You knew all the right ones to hurt me
You take it back but the damage has been done
Should've known that you don't deserve me
And you can blame it on us just being young
Irresponsible and dumb
Haven't you heard that karma catches up to you eventually?

So I wrote this with you in mind

Everyone has that one song that they hate when it comes on
And I hope that this is that one song for you
Always try to change the station, but your friends all sing along
Yeah, I hope that this is that one song for you
This is that one song for you

And I know you hate the sound of my voice
Try your best to always drown out the noise
But you keep taking, your friends know you're faking
We know you're better off
Without me, you're drowning
You're lucky that you found me
You can't say that I'm not
The best that you ever had (Best that you ever had)

So I wrote this with you in mind

Everyone has that one song that they hate when it comes on
And I hope that this is that one song for you
Always try to change the station, but your friends all sing along
Yeah, I hope that this is that one song for you
This is that one song for you

It's funny how things work out
I know we don't see eye to eye
So I wrote this with you in mind

Everyone has that one song that they hate when it comes on
And I hope that this is that one song for you
Always try to change the station, but your friends all sing along
Yeah, I hope that this is that one song for you
This is that one song for you
Yeah, I hope that this is that one song for you
This is that one song for you

That one song, that one song
That one song, that one song
Yeah, I hope that this is that one song for you
This is that one song for you
