

Walk Away

lil aaron

The last thing you want to hear from me is what I think about you (what I think about you)
It's like the truth you can't handle but just want to disprove (disprove)
It's the fine line between the choice and a force
Disguise behind my back, I pulled out the sword

I'll be putting you back where I found you
I've been giving up too much around you
You've been out here before (I cannot take it anymore)

You know it's funny 'cause I see right through you
Try calling out my name (try calling out my name)
I'm fighting fire with a blade
Will you learn to walk away (learn to walk away)

Fake friends never last long
Almost had it figured out but she had it wrong
I thought I knew what she looks like
But I never got to see you with your mask off
So keep talkin' you ain't sayin' shit
You walked away, that's the way it is
And I'm better off alone, and now it's your turn to face it

I'm fine all by myself
Don't need your help
I'll get through hell, without you

You know it's funny 'cause I see right through you
Try calling out my name (try calling out my name)
I'm fighting fire with a blade
Will you learn to walk away (learn to walk away)
Learn to walk away

Point out the problem, only you understand
Pulling the trigger, you have silenced again

(The last thing you want to hear from me is what I think about you...)

You know it's funny 'cause I see right through you
Try calling out my name (try calling out my name)
I'm fighting fire with a blade
Will you learn to walk away
Learn to walk away
