

Therapy Session

Lil Durk

Good morning, Durk

I hope you're doing as well as possible under the circumstances Can you tell me where was your mind when you heard the news of your friend Von passing away on November 6th, 2020?

And then the loss of your brother on June 6th, 2021

Wow, that must've been incredibly devastating

I can only imagine how painful that must've been

It's been a year and I wanna know, how you feel about the rap beef on top of all the chaos?

Despite all this, you continue to be a warrior, a leader in the rap industry and the voice in your community

And I want you to feel completely safe in this room, nobody can hurt you

It's okay to express your vulnerabilities and emotions

This is a judgement-free zone and I encourage you to let your emotions out and express yourself freely

Take a deep breath and focus on the present moment

Today is May 26th

Remember that you don't have to go through this alone

I'm here to listen, you have the voice in this room

I wanna hear from Durk Banks