

just a memory

Lil Lotus

Forget my face, forget my name
Another pill and you're just a memory
Another pill and you're just a memory
One more pill, thoughts of you fade away

All the money out there, I'ma get it on my own
Couldn't spend it with you, I'm better off alone
I'll take another line then I'm just going home
Break me into pieces, thought I was made of stone
She thought I was made of stone, she always doing wrong
Said that you complete me, you don't know me at all
Feel like a dozen roses buried in the snow
Used to think I love you but now my heart too cold, yeah yeah

Forget my face, forget my name
Another pill and you're just a memory
Another pill and you're just a memory
One more pill, thoughts of you fade away
Forget my face, forget my name
Another pill and you're just a memory
Another pill and you're just a memory
One more pill, thoughts of you fade away

I remember when you told me that we met at the wrong time
Pop a pill so I don't think about you, now I'm alright
She said she scared, of ever falling in love
Keep my head in the clouds and now I'm fucking it up
Maybe things will change if I just give it time
I'm reminiscing on the days when you were mine
But I don't wanna live like this in the backseat
Lying, tell 'em I'll be okay when they ask me
I'm alright
Tell 'em I'm alright

Forget my face, forget my name
Another pill and you're just a memory
Another pill and you're just a memory
One more pill, thoughts of you fade away
Forget my face, forget my name
Another pill and you're just a memory
Another pill and you're just a memory
One more pill, thoughts of you fade away
