

Monsters Eating

Lil Lotus

Why the hell are you not happy
You have everything that you want
My patience on the verge of snapping
You're the reason you're falling apart

You're always stressed
You cannot trust me with anything
Try not to hate you
But you pushed me too far today

I bet you'd love to see me bleed
Please just set me free
I'm trying to move on
But the battle keeps waging on

We said lifelong but scars can't recover
Under your thumb I'd rather be slaughtered
This can't go on for one more summer
Make me believe I'm forever a loner

You say it's deadly to save myself
Your twisted words enslave me
Swear to me that you're sober now
But when you fall you blame me
Monsters eating what is left of me
Darkness strangles my worst enemy

We said lifelong but scars can't recover
Under your thumb I'd rather be slaughtered
This can't go on for one more summer
Make me believe I'm forever a loner

It's always your way
And I must obey
It's always the wrong time
You drop me on a dime
It's always your way
And I must obey
It's always the wrong time

It's always the wrong time
