

Perfect Man

Lil' Mo

I don't ever wanna loose my baby
I don't ever wanna loose my baby, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah

If there is no such thing as perfect, then why is it even a word?

Cause I have found someone, who does everything right
... his tease and ...his eyes
The one that you call, someone who protects you from nightmares
When he holds you in your sleep and tells you that you're pretty
And you know you just gonna see, when you look into his eyes
A reflection of the sky, as ... blessed in white
I know it might sound crazy, it's no lie
He is such a perfect man, heaven must be missing
An angel, an angel, please let him stay here
He has work to do, my heart, let him finish what he start

If fairy tales are so not real, then why do I feel this touch?
Why do I see the sun, shining through his heart
Giving light to someone so dark
I'm so lucky to be a part, of this someone
His love it takes me higher, than a bird it could ever fly up
I am so ...caught up, I would never leave him around someone
Who can see the things I see in him
Feel the things I feel with him
Give the the things I give to him
And keep on steadily trying to steal him

He is such a perfect man, heaven must be missing, an angel
He has work to do, my heart, let him finish what he start
I don't care what nobody says about him
He is perfect to my eyes, he can never do wrong
He's the melody to my soul, yeah
Everybody better for him, this world
I'm about to go...

He is such a perfect man, heaven must be missing, an angel
Must be, missing, an angel
An angel, an angel, please let him stay here
He has work to do, my heart, let him finish what he start.
