

Why?

Lil Tracy

Tell me I won't be the one to break down, wait now,
I don't understand how you could hate now.
I try to numb the pain so I don't stay down, wait now,
Waiting for the comedown, way down.

Tell me I won't be the one to break down, wait now,
I don't understand how you could hate now.
I try to numb the pain so I don't stay down, wait now,
Waiting for the comedown, way down.

Look in the mirror, I don't recognize it.
Love hurts, baby don't try to fight it.
Drown my pain in champagne,
All this fame means nothing.

I don't want the money, I don't want the fame.
I just hope you gon' treat me the same.
Through the time you spent pushing me away
Now you're crawling back acting like you always stayed.

I know I gotta go, I promise I'll be back
You're no good for me but I want you so bad.
You said I changed, I said I know
Sold out show but I still feel alone.

Tell me I won't be the one to break down, wait now,
I don't understand how you could hate now.
I try to numb the pain so I don't stay down, wait now,
Waiting for the comedown, way down.

Tell me I won't be the one to break down, wait now,
I don't understand how you could hate now.
I try to numb the pain so I don't stay down, wait now,
Waiting for the comedown, way down.
