

I Like Dat

Lil' Wayne

Can I speak on how I feel y'all?
Let my heart do the talkin...
Listen up, princess

I wake up in the morning, take a knee and thank God
Then go to the mirror, look myself in the eyes
Today I didn't wake up with a woman on my side
Yesterday I didn't wake up with a woman on my side
Neither the day before that, nor before that
I just remember the moments, call me Kodak
And know that I do miss ya
But it's your denial that I must hold against ya
Since you been gone
I have been all alone
But alone is steroids, cause it made me strong
Gurl, hurr gone in the wind
Ya cheated on God's son, baby girl, that's a sin
But I forgive you
But I can't give you
Another chance, ma, you're in my rearview
And I put that ring on your finger, I was all in
But now it's just a symbol of what could've been Goddamn

And now I'm by myself, but..
(I like it)
Damn, she left me all by myself, but..
(I like it)

Yo!
I love my niggas, no homo
I swear I hope they all get cheese, like Digiorno
And something bout the Hot Boys that you don't know
I got a lot of love for 'em that I don't show
And B.G. been my nigga since the front do'
I hope Chopper City Records blow, fo sho'
And me and Juvey never really got along
But you still would let your nigga
Come get on your hottest song
Damn, I fuck wit ya for that
I fuck wit ya lil Wack
And me and Skip go back
(Skip what up)
When you see a real nigga you gotta tip your hat
And since I'm a real nigga, I do just that I had my own lawyer working on Turk's case
After I heard him dissing me on the mixtape
Cause he's locked up and I'm free
He got a lot more to worry bout than me
I ain't trippin

Y'all niggas left me by myself, but I can't front
(I like it)
And so, now
I became the President of the spot y'all left me at, hm
A lot has changed, but, I can't front
(I like it)
