

Fears Become Wishes

Lily Kershaw

Fears become wishes
I hope that you hear this
And stop giving power to all of your visions
They cannot stay
Give them away
They're all in your mind
Leave them behind

Words become wishes
I hope that you hear this
And stop saying vicious things about your own being
Take yourself home
Be there alone
Sit by yourself
No telephone

Oh I hope you find wisdom in all of your wanderings
I hope you find now
And loose your longing
For other times
Future or behind
We only live now
Inside the mind

And I hope you find blessings in all of your losses
And stop being burdens of earthly crosses
We're all visitors here
Travelers my dear
All Built by scars
From other stars

Fears become wishes
I hope that you hear this
And stop giving power to all of your visions
They cannot stay
Give them away
They're only in your mind
Leave them behind
