Moonlight

Lily Kershaw

I came to Paris to party
Didn't wanna hurt anybody
Like when you took me to leave me
And pretend you didn't need me
Oh, I am a mess I'm just trying to learn my lessons
Oh, I'm just tripping on things that I'm missing

Lying in the moonlight
Everything it felt so right
You used to love to take me home
We were lying in the moonlight
Everything it felt so right
You used to love to take me home

You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me home
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me home

You said I'm scary and fun
You didn't know a gun is a gun
I wasn't looking for damage
Something you couldn't manage
You a mess just trying to learn your lesson
Oh, I'm just tripping on things that I'm missing

Lying in the moonlight
Everything it felt so right
You used to love to take me home
We were lying in the moonlight
Everything it felt so right
You used to love to take me home

You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me home
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me home

Do you think of me when you can't sleep
Do you think of me when you can't sleep
Do you think of me when you can't sleep
Do you think of me when you can't sleep

Lying in the moonlight
Everything it felt so right
You used to love to take me home
We were lying in the moonlight
Everything it felt so right
You used to love to take me home

You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me

```
Lying in the moonlight
Everything it felt so right
You used to love to take me home
We were lying in the moonlight
Everything it felt so right
You used to love to take me home

You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me home
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me
You used to love to take me hom
```
