Fuck you ex my love
Fuck you ex my love

You say it first, that this is the end
That it's pointless now, that you knew this would happen
Say good bye my love
Say good bye my love

You say it first, that you're tired
That you were sick of me at some point
Say good bye my love
Say good bye my love

I want to hear it
Why you did that
From your own lips
Tell me why you had no choice but to change

It's just natural
Is there a reason?
Will you end it with your voice?
Don't try to act cool
I already seen it all
The end of your love
Has already killed me

You say it first, that it was love
That you meant it at that moment
Say good bye my love
Say good bye my love

I want to hear it, your end
Softly and naturally
Just like when you came
Leave me so it won't hurt

It's just natural
Is there a reason?
Will you end it with your voice?
Don't try to act cool
I already seen it all
The end of your love
Has already killed me

You think I don't have anything to say?
I can't even think about it
Even if I tell you everything
Nothing will change
Between us
So I'll just become the fool

Don't do this next time
You think there will be another me?
You won't get an easy break up next time
Think about it once more
Is it really her?
Is it that love really not
Going to be easily changed?

You say it first
That you are thankful
I had no one but you up until yesterday

Fuck you ex my love
Fuck you ex my love
