

Friends

Limbeck

Big double doors and a red tile floor

I can't really say that I've been here before

It's good for the change, I suppose

Do come in- my brother, my friend

We've already met, but let's meet again

I've been around too many times

I've been thinking

Listening to the second hand

It's good to be good to people you don't understand

This place is dirty, even when it's still early

The smell fillin' the air so strong, that it hurts me

But I'm still so glad just to be around

Do what you like, but try not to knock it

Be glad you picked it up before you almost lost it

There's a lot of good in the world to be found

Some people don't know what's right below them

All you've got to do is look under your shoe

There's so much good in the world to be found
