

But at this time we cannot both be in a relationship
Where we just couldn't stop staring at each other
And we were dancing
And me in my mind, I was like, "What are you doing?"
"I'm with someone else"
And he was with a girl who was there who was next to a human
He couldn't care less, neither of us
I was like, "What's happening?"
We couldn't stop looking at each other
And then we never saw again for like a month
And wouldn't you know this guy is so annoying
One month after, we went to a party on the beach
And then it all happened that night
