

No Plans to Make Plans

Lime Cordiale

Stressing out on the good life
And feeding without delay
Making accusations
But you're anxious everyday
Need a break from your busy schedule
Of living 5 stars where you stay
You're make a stand but not standing up yet

You're strong and of course you're a darling
You're smart and you're well read
You fight for what you think's right
But only make a difference in your head
You need a break from your addiction
Don't be plugged in until you're dead
You're making a stand but not standing up yet

You have no plans
To make plans
You have no plans
That don't directly affect you

You have no plans
To make plans
You have no plans
That don't directly affect you

You can hold on to your good life
Feel better about yourself
You dwell upon frustrations
But all you say is that "we" need to help
You need a break but you're not broken
It's like a band-aid when you help
You're making a stand but not standing up yet

Paint pictures of perfect people
To mould a figure you've conjured up
Strut around with such conviction
Despite what you think haven't yet done enough
Somewhere along the way there
You lost track of what life's about
You're making a stand but not standing up yet

You have no plans
To make plans
You have no plans
That don't directly affect you

You have no plans
To make plans
You have no plans
That don't directly affect you

You have no plans
To make plans
You have no plans
That don't directly affect you

You have no plans
To make plans
You have no plans
That don't directly affect you

You have no plans
To make plans
You have no plans
That don't directly affect you

You have no plans
To make plans
You have no plans
That don't directly affect you

You ain't got a single fucking plan
