

Broken Line

Limi

Open your eyes, I see
You'll never change your ways, so lie to me
I know you'd like me to believe you feel
The same for me

I hold on to the memories of your lies
The things you say when you get wasted in the night, yeah
Cause when we're looking at each other's eyes
I see the stars, and they bleed into the coming day

I'm feeling a way right now
Don't wanna waste no more of my time
I'm feeling a way right now
Going insane, tryna ride my wave
The city's going up right now
And you see a change in me
It's too late for us
Ooh oh, yeah

You always did me wrong
Been in this for too long
You only call to say you're sorry
You're always on my phone
Cause you're scared I'm moving on
You know your love was never for me

Take it back, break your paradigm
Out of time, you and I, were a broken line
Said it's fine, see the signs, pushing past the prime

You and I were just a phase, yeah
Holding on to empty space
When you know I can't trust your ways, no
Can't trust your ways, no
Yeah

Looking inside
Can't find my love
Yeah
Fading away
I gave too much
Ooh oh
It's you and me
Now there's no us
Yeah
Can't you see that
I no longer need it
Oh, yeah

You always did me wrong
Been in this for too long

Take it back, break your paradigm
Out of time, you and I, were a broken line
