

Distance

Limi

It's a good view from the skyline, yeah
Soon they all gon' know my name, yeah
I know you don't give a fuck, but I
Know I'll never be the same, yeah

Cause you
You're still on mind
It's you
Running through my thoughts still
It's you
I could never find
But you still waste my time
Always on my mind

I
Know you won't come asking for forgiveness
Know you're gonna blame it on the distance
You just like to think that you were different
You're no different
And I

I've been busy staying lowkey
Focused on me
Looking for my own way out
I'm still hoping that you might see
And come back to me one last time

So alone
When the summer's gone
Lovers carry on
Tryna carry on

But these city lights
They remind me of you
Only passing by
Waiting for me to lose
Diving back in time
To when our dreams were still true
Back to the times that I've lost
Trying to remind you

I'm afraid of getting older
I'm afraid of being let down
Of the seasons that divide us now
I
Miss staying up with you all night
Letting go never felt right
Fall felt warmer in your arms
Now it's winter all the time

Driving down the memory lane
Trying not to miss you again
Guess you didn't really care in the end
Heee-yea

Looking for another reason
New distraction every weekend

Trying to stop myself from thinking
About it every time

So alone
When the summer's gone
Lovers carry on
Tryna carry on

But these city lights
They remind me of you
Only passing by
Waiting for me to lose
Diving back in time
To when our dreams were still true
Back to the times that I've lost
Trying to remind you