Off To The Side

L'Impératrice

I don't blame you for what you are
Nor what you've been so far
You've done what you've been asked to

I just need you to realize
What stands before your eyes
While you try breezing through

Look around, go second guessin'
Is life for a chosen few?
There are hearts beating inside their skin
How come we never knew?

Run off to the side
You can still decide
Don't go with the tide

Run off to the side
You can still decide
Don't go with the tide

Tried to be in but never was
Smiling against the laws
Character always breaks through
Can you shut up to fit the norm?
Please sign the consent form
Wait there and join the queue

But it's time for you to get it
Freedom's just a point of view
Brightness flickers over on the fringe
I'm sure you see it too

Run off to the side
You can still decide
Don't go with the tide

Run off to the side
You can still decide
Don't go with the tide

Forget oh what you are
And what you've been so far
Dreams never truely come true

I just need you to realize
What stands before your eyes
While you try breezing through

Look around, go second guessin'
Is life for a chosen few?
There's a heart beating against your skin
It cannot wait for you

Run off to the side
You can still decide
Don't go with the tide

Run off to the side
You can still decide

Run off to the side
You can still decide
