

What Kind Of Man

Lincoln Brewster

How many would do the same?
You die so others gain
Even for the ones who hate
For the soul of your name

Tell me, what kind of man would die for you and me?
What kind of man would die to set us free?

Your love, your word, your fight
Cuz they rob you of your life
Whom of you would still cry
For the souls of the men who spear at your side?

Tell me, what kind of man would die for you and me?
What kind of man would die to set us free?
What kind of man would die for you and me?

Wait now, it's not quite that simple
You just ask yourself
There are times where the answer seems so far away

Tell me, what kind of man would die for you and me?
What kind of man would die to set us free?
What kind of man would die for you and me?
Tell me, what kind of man would die for you and me?
