

Go Back

Lindisfarne

You think you're nice to know, so how could you guess
I don't want to know you till I know myself less.
I'm gonna forget where I'm going, remember where I've been you won't see me till I wanna be seen.

I wanna go back where you've never been,
I wanna feel things like you've never even dreamed
I'm lying on the grass in a blood-stained field
And I'll drift through this country till my memory's healed.

You took me for a fool, you took me for a ride
But this is where I get off 'cos I'm going inside.
I'm gonna forget where I'm going, remember where I've been don't think I've lost my mind if I let out a scream.

I wanna go back where you've never been,
I wanna feel things like you've never even dreamed
I'm flying through the sky on a black and blue night
And I'll drink this midnight air till I see the day light.

I wanna go back where you've never been,
I wanna feel things like you've never even dreamed
I'm flying through the sky on a black and blue night
And I'll drink this midnight air till I see the day light.
