

Chance Of Rain (2006 Demo)

Linkin Park

She had never really understood
She demanded her respect
Twenty years of falling underfoot
Twenty reasons to regret

You would look for what you couldn't see
Scared to be what she became
She would tell you what you couldn't be
It's why you had yourself to blame

Alone again
You tried to disappear
And hold it in
Pretending not to hear

This voice without a sound
Voice that tears you down
You're trying not to fear
Saying this is in your head
But it whispers in your ear
Saying this is what you get

She was ready with your penalty
When eventually you'd fall
She was there inside your memory
Saying this was all your fault

Alone again
You tried to disappear
And hold it in
Pretending not to hear

This voice without a sound
Voice that tears you down
You're trying not to fear
Saying this is in your head
But it whispers in your ear
Saying this is what you get

Alone again
It's all becoming clear
You hold it in
Pretending not to hear

This voice without a sound
Voice that tears you down
You're trying not to fear
Saying this is in your head
But it whispers in your ear

This voice without a sound
Voice without a sound
This voice without a sound (without a sound)
Voice without a sound (without a sound)
