

Summoning

Lisa Mitchell

There are secrets in this Wollemi pine
I've been searching, hoping to find
What remains of the stories that you hold
Can you show me the answers I need to know?

Summoning, summoning, summoning
Help me summon up the strength to change
Summoning, summoning, summoning
Help me summon up the power to feel again

I've not felt this heartbreak for so long
Reminding me to welcome every storm
What remains of the thunder and the rain
When it clears will I still feel the same?

Summoning, summoning, summoning
Help me summon up the strength to change
Summoning, summoning, summoning
Help me summon up the power to feel

When your shadow reaches my gaze
There's something ancient about your way
Draws me closer under your veil
This is the place where all things change, all things change

Summoning, summoning, summoning
Help me summon up the strength to change
Summoning, summoning, summoning
Help me summon up the power to feel again
