

Something About You

Lit

You're talking like I've never heard you before
It used to feel so nice but not anymore
There's something about you now
Somebody
Frustrated
Where have you been?
The sun will shine
The silver lining
There's something about you now
There's something about you now

I made a promise that I'm trying to keep
I stand by you but you are so out of reach
I've been gone too long
There's something about you now
There's something about you now
Now now now!

Every now and then I knew you feel a little broken down
Never thought you'd come back around

There's something about you now
There's something about you now
There's something about you now
(there's something about you now)
There's something about you now
(there's something about you now)
There's something about you now
Now now now!
