

Different Without You

Little Big Town

(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
The shotgun seat
The other side of the bed
Late-night T.V., the drinks I drink
The taste of cigarettes
How the sun comes up
The way my Friday nights go down
The stars, the streets
Hell, everything about this whole damn town

It's just different without you, different without you
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
It's just different without you, different without you
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
I ain't saying it's greener or a deeper shade of blue
It's just different without you, different without you
Conversations
The way I hear your name
The same old songs all sound wrong
And I know they haven't changed
The way I'm living and my definition of what it means to be okay
It's just different without you, different without you
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
It's just different without you, different without you
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
I ain't saying it's greener or a deeper shade of blue
It's just different without you, different without you
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh) Ooh-oo
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh) Ooh-oo
I don't know if it's better or worse
But everything, everywhere that I turn
It's just different without you, different without you
It's just different without you, different without you
I ain't saying it's greener or a deeper shade of blue
It's just different without you, different without you

It's just different without you, different without you
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
Oh, so different without you (It's just different without you,
different without you)
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
It's just different without you, different without you
(Ooh, ooh, ooh, ooh)
It's just different without you, different without you