

The Western Boy

Little Comets

It's that body fist
Like you're blinded fool seeking for my dread
But you're a western boy in new brand

And disregard the entities swollen about the situation moves
But you're a western boy and new improved
Oh you're improving

And you should wash me away
'Cause one day I'll wake up and I won't need you
You should wash me away
'Cause one day I'll wake up and I won't need you
Anymore

You better love the empathy fraction up the corner of my room
But you're a western boy and you control
She loves for hesitation in he did forgot when the time is off
But you're a western boy in control
Oh you control it, you control it

And you should wash me away
'Cause one day I'll wake up and I won't need you
You should wash me away
'Cause one day I'll wake up and I won't need you
Anymore

Maybe it's the treason maybe it's the kid
Maybe it's the reason maybe it's the one who changed
Maybe it's tension makes me feel joy
Maybe it's the moment
Maybe I'm a western boy

You should wash me away
'Cause one day I'll wake up and I won't need you
You should wash me away
'Cause one day I'll wake up and I won't need you
Anymore

You should wash me away
'Cause one day I'll wake up and I won't need you
You should wash me away
'Cause one day I'll wake up and I won't need you
Anymore
