

Welcome
We're gonna whistle a little melody for you
It goes something like this

One, two, three

We wrote a song for you to hear
You enter the room, your presence so strong
The nerves I feel
As I press play the volume's too low, low
Everything that we hear felt from your ears
Please say something good

Dear legends, you've been brave
This soul needs to be saved
My God, my God
I'm a neurotic mess
Passion and love to create
Why put your words on it?
My God, my God
It's all I got

Share a song, a poem, a painting
A scary thing when looked from other eyes
And when judgement fall
Just start to sing along
Why you tryna, why you tryna be so good?
Stop trying to impress the world now
My God, I feel just like a child

We wrote a song for you to hear
You enter the room, your presence so strong
The nerves I feel
As I press play the volume's too low, low
Everything that we hear felt from your ears
Please say something good
