

I'm trying to find something to hold onto
I'm running out of breath, can can you lend me some?
Just lock it down and hold it till it's not breathing

I heard that you have been studying your art
Well I hope that you have found your home
It seems fitting that you went and got [?]
We could say that I think I've found my own

I'm running out of apples, can you give me some?
Money I will pay you back if I get the chance
I guarantee my profit will grow too
A profit I haven't seen before

I wish to be governed by something else
I can't hold your hand while you wash away our dreams
And it's been pissing down in Sydney for three weeks
But oh thank God it doesn't feel so long

I'm running out of apples, can you give me some?
Money I will pay you back if I get the chance
I guarantee my profit will grow too
A profit I haven't seen before

I'm running out of apples, can you give me some?
Money I will pay you back if I get the chance
I guarantee my profit will grow too
A profit I haven't seen before
