

Back In Your Arms

Little River Band

Went out to the west coast
To make a better life
It turned into a bad joke
I was barely making five

Every night in a flower palace room
I'd lie awake staring into the gloom
Thinking it would be so good

To be back in your arms tonight
Well you know it's gonna be alright
To be back in your arms tonight

I remember some days
Lying tangled in your bed
Your hair just like a halo
I watched you as you slept

So come on train carry me home
Don't give up the ghost
For so long i've been lost

I'll be back in your arms tonight
Oh you know it's gonna be alright
To be back in your arms tonight

Please be there
Last night when i called
You said i'm a wanderer
Don't be scared
I'm coming home to stay this time yea yeah
Home to stay

So come on train carry me home

And don't give up the ghost
For so long i've been lost

But i'll be back in your arms tonight
And you know it's gonna be alright
To be back in your arms tonight
Well you know it's gonna be alright

I'll be back in your arms tonight
Well you know it's gonna be alright
Back in your arms tonight
Well you know it's gonna be alright

I'm gonna be back in your arms
Back in your arms tonight baby

So come on train
You gotta carry me home now
So come on train
I gotta get back home to my baby

Train

(i know she's waiting)
Carry me home
(yeah she's waiting for me)

Train
(train train train)
Carry me home
(carry me home)
Train carry me home
Train
