

Peace

Little Simz

I got to find some peace of mind
I got to find some peace of mind

She was sixteen trekking through the rain just to build
To now, whipping beamers out of town though the hills
She thinks about where she begun and what it takes
All the choices her L's and her mistakes
All you can do is try, try your best
So, if you can't give her wisdom at least just give her grace
The weight of the world been causing her to retreat
How can we sleep when there's murders in the streets?
Guilty taking a bite, but knowing she gotta eat
A time we should be praying for nothing other than peace
A time we should be holding each other through all the grief
God gave her the gift of delivering you a speech

Don't be afraid when you're falling, you're falling
Tryna find yourself on the way
Don't miss your calling, your calling
I got to find some peace of mind

They didn't let you in when you waited
Thinking on how to balance a day shift
One thing you never harbour is hatred
I know the space you're in is sacred
All of the tools are at your disposal
How can you be the greatest but noble?
The mountain moves, the climb is steep
Who are we looking up to as moguls?
Royal, empress
Life riches in excess
Minimalism don't mean you spend less
Love is the currency and it's endless
Don't be a victim of your reality
It can be draining getting through each day
And sometimes we ain't got the capacity
All I'm really needing is clarity
We all need something we can believe in
But everything's happening for a reason
In your heart you will always be home
So make peace with what you outgrow

Don't be afraid when you're falling, you're falling
Tryna find yourself on the way
Don't miss your calling, your calling
I got to find some peace of mind
I got to find some peace of mind

I, chasing after empires online
Wishing I could falsify the grains of time
But my sleep's been weak
Seven generations of needing relief
How do you find it?
When the son's the patriarch
How do you find it?
When the sun is dimmer than the stars

Broken and defeated, I need help, feels like I'm losing control
I close my eyes, feel the rain
Pray to God, know I gotta let it go
I won't stop trying no
'Cause I deserve it all
Yeah, yeah
I got to find some peace of mind
