

Distorted

Liv Dawson

Swimming through the silence
Look like you're ready to go
But you kiss me in the morning
Say you love me you don't

I think I'm addicted to the feeling
And I know that you can believe it
Tryna find the meaning
I'll see it through the evening

I'll just have to finish off what you started
I don't want apologies
All that's in my head right now is distorted
I can't set this energy free
We should really speak our minds
Say it all the time but
You know I don't wanna turn it around
So I'll just have to finish off what you start
I don't really care if it ain't what you wanted

You're making it look easy
You got your heart on your sleeve
Like a different species
You left your mark over me

I think I'm addicted to the feeling
And I know that you can believe it
Tryna find the meaning
I'll see it through the evening

I'll just have to finish off what you started
I don't want apologies
All that's in my head right now is distorted
I can't set this energy free
We should really speak our minds
Say it all the time but
You know I don't wanna turn it around
So I'll just have to finish off what you start
I don't really care if it ain't what you wanted
