

Open Your Eyes

Liv Dawson

I should've left but now I've stayed too long
And the picture in my head is getting lost
What have I done? I've caught it up in your mind
Have you forgotten how you used to shine?

How much can you take?
How many mistakes must I make
Before you break?

What do you see when you look at me?
I'll never be what you need
So open your eyes to see who I am tonight
How many nights? How many days?
Can you pretend to look away
So open your eyes to see who I am tonight

Oh-oh-oh-oh, oh-oh-oh-oh
Oh-oh-oh-oh-oh, oh-oh-oh-oh-oh

You should've seen the rhythm in my face
But you are holding me too tight in your embrace
I should've said what I've always known
But I was too afraid to be alone

I want you to stay
But you won't find me standing in your way
Not today

What do you see when you look at me?
I'll never be what you need
So open your eyes to see who I am tonight
How many nights? How many days?
Can you pretend to look away
So open your eyes to see who I am tonight

Oh-oh-oh-oh, oh-oh-oh-oh
Oh-oh-oh-oh-oh, oh-oh-oh-oh-oh (ooh)
Oh-oh-oh-oh (oh), oh-oh-oh-oh (oh)
Oh-oh-oh-oh-oh (oh), oh-oh-oh-oh-oh
