

Somebody Else Said

LiveonRelease

i wanna justify my position but i'm wishin cuz i know you weren't boren to listen it's kinda hard, don't know where to start but i gotta get smart before we're torn apart being on the road affects my soul i lose control and i can't find words of my own it's just like somebody else said, you can never really go home it's just like somebody else said, i guess i got it in my bones just like somebody else said, the ends justify the means and when i'm here with you, that's how it seems it's not out of spite that i don't call every night but you know i just might when the feeling's right what i'm conveyin, it's hard communicatin between partying and playin if you know what i'm sayin

i feel like somebody else when i'm on the road staying up all night, just half-full with rock and roll everybody's tryin to tell me what to do but there's nobody else for me but you
