

Honesty, Honestly

Living With Lions

I thought the worst of you
This game you've put me through
In this game that I could never win.
You get the best of me,
So take the rest of me.
And do your best to take the rest while you still can.

Down, down, down, down, down.
I'll see you when you're dead,
Down where I am now.

This time I've had enough.
This time I've called your bluff.
You'll quit while you're still up,
With nothing to lose and so much to hide.
Eventually you'll drown to no surprise,
And you'll go
(Down, down, down, down down)

You're going
Down, down, down, down, down.
I'll see when you're dead,
Down where I am now.
Yeah, you're going
Down, down, down, down, down.
You're taking everything and everyone along with you,
As you go...

You gave me the run around yesterday.
You gave me a lesson in humility.
Everything you give
I'm gonna throw back in your face.
I'm gonna shove it down your lungs
so you can finally here me say...

You're going
Down, down, down, down, down.
I'll see when you're dead,
Down where I am now.
Yeah, you're going
Down, down, down, down, down.
You're taking everything and everyone along with you

When you go down,
You're taking everything and everyone along with you.
When you go down,
See you when you're down.
