

That's Life

Liz Lawrence

Check the bread
Check the butter
Check the knife
Check the connection is stable
Check my pulse
Check my vital signs

It's alright
I'm not gonna tell you everything's gonna be just fine
A little tough love and never giving up and it's alright
(It's alright)
Well you're in control of letting it go and it's alright

Check the salt
Check your left shoulder
And check the notes
Check the knobs on the cooker
And check again
Check on your most positive of friends

It's alright
I'm not gonna tell you everything's gonna be just fine
A little tough love and never giving up and it's alright
(It's alright)
Well you're in control of letting it go and it's alright

That's life
That's life
That's life
That's life

It's alright
I'm not gonna tell you everything's gonna be just fine
(It's alright)
A little tough love and never giving up and it's alright
(It's alright)
I'm not gonna tell you everything's gonna be just fine
(It's alright)
Well you're in control of letting it go and it's alright
You're in control of letting it go and it's alright
You're in control of letting it go and it's alright
