Can't tell if I do or don't regret it
'Cause I feel so alive as it eats me inside
Wish I could press restart or find a way to forget it
There's no means to this end 'cause I'm nothing like them

They think I'm crazy
I'm known for batting hard when it's time to fold my cards
Am I running out of time? Am I running out of time?
Always been the queen of hearts fallin' for jokers
Playin' the sick jokes on me
Must be a [?] sleep
And it's hard enough [?] as I'm getting older

What a joy it must be
To love and let it be
'Cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed
To love and let it be
'Cause I'm a different breed
('cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed)

Tell me now if you're not worth the fight
'Cause it's blocking my pride if you're just being polite
Expecting more, it's myself I'm fooling
Oh, but you played the part
It wasn't all my delusion

Oh, they think I'm crazy
Swimming out into the deep when safety's out of reach
A little water in my lungs, I thought it couldn't hurt me much
Always been the queen of hearts fallin' for jokers
Playin' the sick jokes on me
Must be a [?] sleep
And it's hard enough [?] as I'm getting older

What a joy it must be
To love and let it be
'Cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed
'Cause I'm a different breed
To love and let it be
'Cause I'm a different breed
