We break up every time that you leave town
Make love every time you're back around
And I think this could be a problem I think it is right now
Making a mess of us as we figure this out

I don't want to be the one
To call this off before we have the chance to start
But I'm done
Crying at your door
No, I'm done
Crying at your door
At your door

I don't wanna start being a bad friend
I just wanna keep you as my best friend
So I think we should untie our hands and stop kissing
Give this distance and keep this business

I don't want to be the one
To call this off before we have the chance to start
But I'm done
Crying at your door
Oh I'm done
Crying at your door
Oh I'm done
Crying
At your door
