

Pack Light

Liza Anne

This has been a hard year
But I guess we're still here
Tell me what you're feeling
I wanna understand it

A younger me would have rushed through it
Would have checked out when it's not working
Just punched out when it's not perfect
Would have grown out instead of into it
But there's room for the bloom now, baby
Give it some space

You've been gone for weeks now
But you're still here in our house
I see it in your eyes
I've got the feeling, too

A younger us would have ignored it
Would have gave it up and never gone for it
Too scared that we might not make it
Too scared of a good thing changing
But there's room for the bloom now, baby
Give it some time

Pack up your car
Remember to breathe
Go to Montana
And get what you need
You're taking the long way
When you never leave
So, take all the pictures
I can't wait to see

Pack light pack light pack light
Pack light pack light pack light
Pack light pack light

I know it's been a hard year
