

Tunnels

Liza Anne

Feel it constant, you're running through my veins
I feel the whisper that I'm not the same without your aid
And, I don't think I like myself without you

I feel me changing, one spark and I'm set free
But, now I'm caged into this misery
Maybe just one hit and then they'd notice how I'm better
I'm better with you around

Coursing through the tunnels inside of me
You are my vice
You are, you are
Coursing through the tunnels inside of me
You are my vice
You are, you are

When you don't fill me, I can't stop shaking in my soul
The winter morning is a hell I'd rather not know without you with me
You keep me sturdy, you make me weak
And, I can't decide if that's okay

Coursing through the tunnels inside of me
You are my vice
You are, you are
Coursing through the tunnels inside of me
You are my vice
You are, you are

Coursing through the tunnels inside of me
You are my vice
You are, you are
Coursing through the tunnels inside of me
You are my vice
You are, you are

Coursing through the tunnels inside of me
You are my vice
You are, you are
Coursing through the tunnels inside of me
You are my vice
You are, you are
