

Another Angel

Lizz Wright

Your love is eternal , I never should have touched you Broken words fill my mouth 'cause I never said goodbye

But what does it matter , who really cares
In this river of faces , in this new windy place
I will lose all your traces , I'll go and find another angel

One more word and I would have followed you From behind my silent door I've been waiting , ready to go

But what does it matter , who really cares
In this river of faces , in this new windy place
I will lose all your traces , I'll go and find another

No one can stop me , I'm gonna run till I get free
'Cause I can wait until you're gone from me , hmm

So what does it matter , who really cares
In this river of faces , in this new windy place
I will lose all your traces , I'll go and find another
angel

Hmmm , another angel
