

I LUV BEING MYSELF

Lizzo

Look, look, look, look, look, look, look, look
I love being myself, I love being myself
I love being myself, I love being myself
I love being myself, I love being myself
I love being myself, I love being myself

I'm good at writing first lines, bad at being on time
I think I'm making some progress, at least I hope and try
Used to be more self-aware, it's kinda hard to be that Got a little off track, baby, now I'm back
Back to being myself, don't need nobody else
I called them hoes for help, ain't nobody show up
So I'm all alone, all up in this booth
Telling y'all my truth
I ain't told no lies, I just shed some tears
But you won't see me cry
Sometimes I'm sad, but I don't really know why
But I still show up, too much I'm doing
The shit I'm pursuing, it's way bigger than music
Yeah, it's way bigger than music
Yeah

I love being myself, I love being myself
I love being myself, I love being myself
I love being myself, I love being myself
I love being myself, I love being myself

Every time I think something's wrong with me
I remind myself of the better things
And there's no one else that I'd rather be
I'm shining, I'm shining

Not in the sea, I'm just loving on me
Not in the sea, I'm just starting on me
