

And If

Lizzy McAlpine

Hey, I barely know you
But is it cool if I say hello?
Hey, I want to know you
Is that okay? Are you comfortable?

And if I fall
I blame the whiskey, I blame my mind
And if your lips happen to kiss me
I will be fine, fine, fine
Pour me another glass of wine

Hey, you barely know me
But is it cool if I talk for hours?
Hey, you could show me
What it is that's in that head of yours

And if I fall
I blame the moonlight, I blame your smile
And if I fall, I know that soon I'll be alright
Pour me another glass of wine

And if I cry
You won't mind

Who knows where?
Who knows where love goes when it dies?
How can a new love, tangled in you love, arise?
Who can say?
Who can say how we fell for each other?
Every day I notice your gray eyes and I am pulled into another dream, another wish
A place in my mind where you and I can exist
I dream about it all the time
I see you and I wish you were mine
